Lumity

Sara Palmer Hussey (PhD), Lumity creator, research scientist and Cambridge University graduate, was moved to solve the age-old question: How can we grow older and wiser, yet retain the energy and radiant skin of our youth? Is it possible to blossom and thrive as we mature?

Fusing biology, her academic forte, with her own realistic vantage point as a mother and multi-tasking hyphenate, Sara captured the full scope of the issue: The demands of modern life pull us in all directions and our nutritional choices often suffer as we live on the go; we endure insufficient sleep as we bear and care for others and our rich, full lives lead to stress overload. Habitually running on empty while relying on caffeine or sugar ultimately catches up with us in the form of accelerated aging, constant tiredness and a weak immune system.

CIC Wealth

Ryan Wibberley began CIC Wealth after working for two large financial planning firms. He felt there was a clash between the services and products his employers wanted him to sell and what his clients needed. Instead of bolstering the plan of his employers, Ryan sought to form long-term relationships by concentrating on the client's needs and interests. Therefore, in 1999, Ryan founded CIC Wealth.

Organization information:

Dave's Bike Site

I have been avidly riding bikes for nearly 15 years now. My love of bikes has lead me on an incredible journey, from traveling across the country to attend races and tradeshow, to working in the local bike shop and helping to wrench on charity rides. Many people would love to get into cycling, but find the cost too prohibitive. All too ofte bike manufacturers take advantage of new riders by selling them really junky bicycles that fit poorly and are not made to last. It is my aim to help you find those affordable bicycles and bicycle accessories that can help you get fit and enjoy the sport without breaking your bank account.

Foster youth in Washington may not be aware of unique financial support available to them as they pursue their education. For example, the Passport to College Promise Scholarship assists with higher education costs such as tuition, books, housing, transportation, and some personal expenses. Passport students are eligible for specialized support services.

The Washington Student Achievement Council (WSAC) and the College Success Foundation are developing an information campaign for Washington's students from foster care. This new communications campaign will provide students with information on education planning, financial aid programs for foster youth, and other resources. The information will reside on WSAC's www.ReadySetGrad.org website and will be introduced to college administrators, students, and supporters at the annual Passport to College State Conference in April 2016.

Paying for college can be tough for anyone. Tuition, room and board, parking, lab fees and other expenses put constant pressure on paychecks and set up students for years of lingering loans. According to the U.S. Department of Education, undergraduate students at four-year institutions paid an average of $13,927 per year for tuition and fees in 2012. For certain segments of the population, however, a number of unique opportunities exist to help defray these costs. Fortune 500s, state governments, advocacy groups and other entities with educational interests offer scholarships to students based on merit, need and/or personal characteristics. Microsoft's "Blacks at Microsoft Scholarship", for example, offers qualifying African-American high school seniors up to $5,000 per year to complete their undergraduate education.

Accredited Schools Online

We're here to help you invest your education dollars wisely. Today's higher education marketplace offers a mind-boggling array of options ranging from community colleges to online PhD programs. As with any industry in a free economy, different institutions offer different levels of quality. Unlike many countries, the U.S. does not have a central ministry of education that oversees all colleges and universities. We do, however, have a government-sanctioned system comprised of independent agencies that provide institutions of higher education with their stamp of approval.

Create a cover page.

Create a cover page that contains the following information:

Name

Address

Date of birth

Phone number

Email

What school you currently attend

What school you are attending next semester

Type the following honor statement on your cover page and sign your signature:

My essay is my own original work, not copied from another source, and not written by someone other than myself. [Signature]

Do not write a "cover letter." Just include the information listed above on your cover page.

Include your cover page, essay and tweet as a single document and save it as a PDF. Make sure all of the information requested above is contained in your single PDF. Remember to tweet your your message with this url.

Essay:

The winner will be selected solely on the basis of the following essay.

Write a 140-word essay. Then, write a 140-character tweet-worthy summary of the essay.

Both the essay and tweet will be considered.

The winning essay will be on a topic related to one of Hasbrook & Hasbrook's nine practice areas. It will be the essay we will be most proud to display on our website, www.OklahomaLawyer.com. Make us proud!

Our nine practice areas are personal injury, auto accidents, medical malpractice, dangerous drugs and medical devices, employment law, nursing home abuse, insurance law, car dealership fraud, and product liability. For more information about these practice areas and the kinds of issues we deal with, see our website and our blog.

Remember, we represent people who have been injured or harmed; the winning essay will be sympathetic to their point of view.

The essay may inform or advocate or both. These are familiar topics that are covered often by the media. The winning essay will not simply rehash what has already been said; it will present something new and/or communicate an idea in a creative way.

Updated 6/15/2016

Don't be fooled. It is much harder to write a good 140-word essay than to write a good 500-word or 1000-word essay. Make every word count.

Judging will be done by members of our law firm. Their final decision will be based on: (1) relevance to one of our practice areas, (2) composition and (3) creativity.

Organization information:

Hasbrook & Hasbrook

At Hasbrook & Hasbrook, we are dedicated to helping our clients recover for their losses. Our practice is focused exclusively on helping individuals, and we pride ourselves on always putting our clients' interests first.

Senior Advice

We created SeniorAdvice.com after my beloved grandmother, Mammaw, began to decline in health and our family was forced to consider transitioning her out of her home and into a senior living facility. The entire process was frustrating, confusing, and often even misleading. At a time when our family was at its most fragile and vulnerable state, we found it exceedingly difficult to understand the myriad of senior care options, let alone how to pay for them.

Organization information:

Silver Cross

Founded in 1993 when the Internet was just starting to become important in day-to-day life, Silver Cross built its roots as relationship company. It built partnerships with experienced dealers and installers of stair lifts, elevators and other mobility equipment in order to bridge the gap between the prospective customer and a pre-qualified, knowledgeable local dealer. Silver Cross built its first website by gathering all the manufacturer information in one place, by comparing information and building a knowledge base of resources to help consumers educate themselves about what is available and what might fit their needs.

The Expert Institute

The legal industry has changed - and technology has provided the catalyst for this evolution. Lawyers are adopting new ways of thinking and redefining the most fundamental aspects of how they practice law.

The Expert Institute was founded in recognition of this paradigm shift, with the objective of developing a smarter way for attorneys to identify, verify, and retain the best expert witnesses.

Every litigator - from AmLaw 100 partners to solo practitioners - relied on outdated and inconsistent methods for finding expert witnesses. We were determined to disrupt this unreliable methodology.

Woozy Moo

Have you ever walked down a toy aisle and said: "Holy smokes, what is with all the pinkness in the girl's section," "There are no toys that look like me," or "Why don't they carry toys that satisfy my awesome collector needs?" Yeah, we've said that too. If you think about it, traditional toy stores are kind of marginalizing. They tell girls that they are supposed to play with this and boys with that. They give little love to nerdy (but awesome!) toy collectors. They only have toys that "sell." At Woozy Moo, we believe in toys for everyone. No girl or boy toys. Just toys! There will be toys that look like you. Toys that make you think, and toys that you can play with for hours. We don't discriminate against fun. Just think of us as the United Nations of toys. We have the toys that the "others" don't carry. Let's not leave anyone out and let's end fun discrimination!
